

PRESS RELEASE

Pelican Healthcare commits to raising £10,000 for Jo's Cervical Cancer Trust.

Pelican Healthcare, the UK's leading speculum manufacturer, aim to raise a minimum of £10,000 for Jo's Cervical Cancer Trust by donating 5p from every box of PELISpec vaginal speculum they sell.

Paul Eakin, Managing Director of Pelican said, "We are delighted to embark on this relationship with Jo's Cervical Cancer Trust. As the main provider of speculums for the cervical screening programme we want to support the Trust every way we can in the fight against this terrible disease".

As well as raising funds Pelican will look at other ways they can help raise the profile of the charity amongst health professionals and the patients they support.

Robert Music, director of Jo's Cervical Cancer Trust said, "We are delighted that Pelican Healthcare are going to support us in this way. Their commitment to raising funds and awareness is fantastic and I am very much looking forward to working with them and developing a successful long term partnership."

Ends – August 2010

NOTES TO EDITORS

1. Jo's Cervical Cancer Trust – www.jostrust.org.uk is the UK's only dedicated cervical cancer charity offering support and information for those affected by cervical cancer and cervical abnormalities.
2. Around 3 women in the UK die each day from cervical cancer, with someone being diagnosed every 3 hours, facing an uncertain future. Over 300,000 women a year are told they may have a cervical abnormality that could require treatment.
